In the case of non-compliance, the Finance Act and Senior Accounting Officer duties contain significant risks and penalties for both organisations and individuals. Compliance is often seen as an act of mere risk mitigation, but can it also be seen as an opportunity?

Join KDS and our guest speaker, PwC's Jo Bello, for this complimentary one-hour event in which we will look at the complexities which the Finance Act and Senior Account Officer duties pose for organisations, and how compliance can be used as a powerful opportunity for cutting costs.

About our guest speaker:

Jo Bello has been with global professional services firm PricewaterhouseCoopers, where she holds the position of Partner, since 1997. She is a specialist in corporate processes and controls, and her areas of focus include VAT and customs duties, as well as international indirect tax for multinational companies. Jo is AAT and CTA qualified.

Topics to be covered include:

- What constitutes 'adequate systems and processes'?
- How can you demonstrate that your systems and processes are being applied consistently?
- Can I spend less through higher compliance, or is it simply an extra overhead?
- What are the business risks and costs?

Date: 26th January
